

Turn savings potential into savings realized

Reduce energy use and save money with our multi-family Program

All multi-family properties, large or small, have great potential for energy savings. Saving energy is saving money. Our Multi-family Program can help you improve the energy efficiency in your building, while enhancing tenant comfort and increasing property value.

There are three ways you can improve the energy efficiency of your building and receive upgrades.

- Multi-family check-up
Provides direct-install measures in units at no additional cost, such as ENERGY STAR® certified LED bulbs, smart power strips, and water-saving measures.
- Multi-family home performance with ENERGY STAR
Provides incentives for deeper retrofits like insulation and air sealing replacement of heating and cooling systems, and water heating systems.
- Multi-family commercial and industrial
Provides energy-efficient upgrades such as lighting and chillers in common areas on commercial metered properties.

During your appointment

A specially trained Energy Analyst will conduct a visual inspection of common areas and each residential unit. The Energy Analyst will then show you simple ways you can improve your energy efficiency.

You will receive a detailed report on the recommended energy efficiency equipment installed and the associated energy savings. You will also get recommendations for improving the safety and durability of the building and its equipment.
