

Optimize Your Building's Performance

ENERGY MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

Building tune-ups are the most cost-effective way to lower operating costs. With regular HVAC tune-ups offered through Atlantic City Electric's Energy Management program, you can bring your HVAC units back to their proper state. Just like an automotive tune-up maximizes performance, an HVAC tune-up ensures that your systems are working at optimal efficiency—helping you conserve energy and extend the life of existing equipment.

Need more incentive?

Atlantic City Electric offers incentives up to $400 per unit on maintenance services for central HVAC systems (i.e., air-cooled packaged, split systems, or air source heat pumps), mini-splits, and packaged terminal units. Maintenance services and benefits include:

- Cleaning of system's evaporative and condensing coils
- Air filter replacement
- Insulation repair
- Refrigerant change
- Additional 5–20% savings on energy costs
- Improved building comfort and safety
- Increased reliability of HVAC equipment

The more tune-ups,
the greater the savings.

Single compressor units

$300/unit

Multiple compressor units

$400/unit

PTAC, PTHP, or mini-split

$250/unit

*Capped at 80% of the tune-up cost.

Check your eligibility now.

- HVAC tune-up incentives are available to all Atlantic City Electric commercial customers, regardless of average peak demand
- Customers may work with any qualified contractor of their choice
- Incentives are offered for tune-ups of existing HVAC units between 3 and 20 tons
- Applications should be submitted within 90 days of a tune-up service

How To Get Started.

Visit our website for a list of certified contractors that can inspect your equipment, then schedule an appointment. During the inspection, the contractor will identify any HVAC equipment that could benefit from program participation. The equipment will undergo inspection and troubleshooting, and it will be adjusted to operate at optimal efficiency levels. The site visit is complimentary, and the incentive will be paid to the customer based on the nature of the equipment tune-up items installed.

Schedule your tune-up appointment.

Visit atlanticcityelectric.com/EnergyManagement or call us at 833-223-7297 for more information.